ST. CLOUD — And the "Minnesota Masters of Trivia Traveling Trophy" following this year's 50-hour trivia marathon goes to... team Stefan's Dream!

Last weekend, 47 teams tested their wealth of random worldly knowledge during the 50-hour trivia weekend put on by St. Cloud State's radio station KVSC-FM (88.1).

At the end of the weekend, team Stefan's Dream ended with the most points and unseated three-year reigning champs from team It Just Doesn't Matter.

Stefan's Dream had not won the weekend since 2015, but since 2005 the team (or a variation of it, as they adjusted the name every year) has taken the top spot a total of six — now seven — times.

Here were the top 10 teams this year, ranked by total score:

1. Stefan's Dream — 16,115.

2. It Just Doesn't Matter — 15,560.
3. Meyer, Meyer Pants on Fire — 14,895.
4. Sigma Phi Nothing — 14,735.
5. What Would Learned Pigs and Scoobie Doo? — 14,585.
6. Pull-Start Diesel — 14,110.
7. Voodoo Panties — 13,975.
8. Neo-Maxi Zoomdweebies — 13,515.
9. House of Insanity — 13,370.
10. Non-Essential Government Workers — 12,905.
